

Center for Research on the Dynamics of Civilizations
Graduate School of Humanities and Social Science,
Okayama University

KICK-OFF SYMPOSIUM

for the Center for Research on the Dynamics of Civilizations to go BEyond ARCHAEOlogy

FEBRUARY 21ST, 2019, 13:00-17:30

Auditorium in the Graduate School of Natural Science and Technology,
Building No.1 Okayama University

Opening Remarks

Symposium Part I: BE-ARCHAEO: a 4 year European programme to go Beyond ARCHAEOlogy

Combining traditional archeology and multidisciplinary scientific approaches

Eliano Diana, University of Torino, Italy

The Tobiotsuka Kofun as a field test for methodological comparison

Daniele Petrella, International Research Institute for Archaeology and Anthropology

Exploring the ancient Kibi through interdisciplinary, international collaboration

Akira Seike, Okayama University

Symposium Part II: Scope of the Center for Research on the Dynamics of Civilization

Toward the construction of interdisciplinary research platform through digitalization of historical materials

Makoto Goto, National Museum of Japanese History

Violence, civilization, and philosophy: An interdisciplinary approach

Hisashi Nakao, Anthropological Institute of Nanzan University

Comments and Discussion

Closing Remarks

Open to public. The Symposium is in simultaneously translated English and Japanese Contact: Naoko Matsumoto, redyc@okayama-u.ac.jp

Supported by Okayama Prefecture, Okayama Prefectural Board of Education, Soja City, Soja City Board of Education, Cosponsored by National Museum of Japanese History, and Anthropological Institute of Nanzan University, and Okayama University Research Administration Office

南山大学人類学研究所
Anthropological Institute, Nanzan University